So big and so little!

The Plush Pad is in a category and class of its own. It is definitely not just a changing pad. We consider The Plush Pad a portable changing station, because the memory foam makes it comfortable enough to be used all the time - in another part of the home, during extended stays with the grandparents, while on vacation at hotels, or to reclaim counter space for parents with smaller living spaces. As well, simply roll it up and take it with you daily on-the-go. Versatility, coupled with comfort, style, and portability is what separates the plush pad from the rest. At $29.95, it is a terrific value.

The Green Guru

So, you're recycling, bringing reusable bags to the market, spending less on carry-out and bottled water, sometimes packing a lunch for yourself and bringing a reusable stainless steel bottle for water to work. You get the picture. We are all thinking of ways that we can cut our waste, our carbon footprint and save money. Now that you are expecting a baby, it is especially important to design your nursery with both your baby and the environment in mind. In the process, you will keep your baby and your home healthy, save money and achieve efficiency in your purchases. There are things you will purchase for your baby that will . . . Thank you

Thank you for your interest in Lazar's Juvenile Furniture. Did you know that this September will mark our 92nd anniversary? Yup, my great-grandparents Paul and Mary Lazar founded our family business back in 1917. Things have changed a bit since then, but we are still focused on setting up beautiful, well designed and efficient nurseries for folks like you. Please visit our real life store where you can see first hand what Lazar's is all about!

Sincerely,

Adam Lazar
