Chew On This!

For over 70 years, Haba has been inventing high quality toys which will grow with children. Their toys are delightfully enlightening and leave plenty of room for imagination and reveal a world of fun and learning.

Haba produces wooden toys at its own facility in Germany using wood harvested from certified sustainable forestry practices. Haba uses only water-based solvent-free lacquers. Multiple layers render the surface extremely resistant to humidity and wear and tear, allowing the toy to be put in baby's mouth safely.

Buy The Farm

Well, maybe not the whole farm. How about just a share in a farm?

A program that has been around for a while that is gaining more and more popularity is buying a share in the harvest of a local farm. You sign up for a set number of weeks during the growing season and each week you get a box of fresh, seasonal, and local produce. What you find in your produce box is determined by what is in season. It's like bringing the farmer's market into your home! Think of the learning opportunities as each week you and your children open up your box to find a new vegetable or fruit you never thought to cook with before. One of our local favorites is Angelic Organics. But don't delay, shares for this growing season are going fast.
